Supporting your business to stay safe and compliant

As well as being a legal requirement, it is crucial to make sure your people aren't at risk of any injury as a result of the work they do for you. We can help you put robust health and safety solutions in place to keep them safe, as well as ensure any visitors, customers, and sub-contractors who may work or do business with you are protected too.

Realistic and practical risk management solutions

We'll provide you with sensible and straightforward risk management solutions to help your business thrive whilst complying with the law. Our expert consultants will provide user-friendly documents and workable solutions, and take a long term view of your ongoing needs, making our health and safety solutions an integral part of your business for many years to come.

We offer a wide range of client-focused consultancy and training services throughout the UK, tailoring our products and services to meet your individual and business needs.

Expertise and experience

Our strength is in our people. Our consultants have years of experience and a wealth of knowledge, along with several members of our team having CMIOSH (Chartered Member of IOSH) status and OSHCR registration. In addition to this, our office staff are Level 2 trained in Health and Safety.

Covering all of your health and safety needs

Our services and solutions provide a holistic package that helps mitigate a wide range of risks your business could face.

We're your one-stop partner to help your business:

- ✓ Reduce the risk of accidents and claims
- ✓ Reduce the risk of prosecutions
- ✓ Reduce the risk of HSE intervention
- ✓ Improve standing with customers and insurers
- ✓ Improve productivity and efficiency

“As a forward thinking Company it is vital we are the forefront of what we do. We were keen to harness our health & safety management systems and gaining the ISO 45001 accreditation for our Security and Property Businesses has helped demonstrate our commitment.

The support we have received from NFP has been invaluable and look forward to continuing our close relationship as our Business grows and develops.”

Health and safety advice

Our support contracts ensure you have access to competent health and safety advice, tailored to your business, just when you need it. We'll allocate you a nominated consultant, giving you a direct contact number so you can gain quick access to advice from someone who understands your business and your specific needs.

Whether it's a query on regulation changes, RIDDOR accident reporting, fee for intervention, training, or advice on health and safety policies – our consultants are on hand to provide the very best expert advice.

All of our contract clients also receive our handy monthly health and safety newsletter, full of the latest news, expert insights, legal updates and summaries of recent health and safety executive prosecutions.

We can help your business with:

- ✓ Advice on specific issues
- ✓ Dealing with and investigating an accident or crisis
- ✓ Understanding your legal responsibilities

Compliance audits and reviews

Could a health and safety compliance audit benefit your business? With regulations and industry best practice developing all the time it's difficult to keep up with what you need to do to keep your people safe and stay on the right side of the law.

Our health and safety management audits take a comprehensive look at how you are measuring up as a business against the regulations and requirements for your sector.

We can help your business with:

- ✓ Site inspections
- ✓ Stand-alone audits and gap analysis
- ✓ Identifying levels of compliance in your business
- ✓ Understanding your legal responsibilities

Policies and management systems

After our experts have completed your audit we'll prepare a bespoke health and safety policy and management system for your business.

The three essential pillars of this system provide you with everything you need to document and manage health & safety within your business:

- ✓ Health and safety policy statement
- ✓ Health and safety organisation and responsibility documentation
- ✓ Specific health and safety arrangements and procedures within your business

The system also includes the required forms to demonstrate that you are managing health and safety and keeping the right records.

All of our policies and management systems are built and written around the specific requirements of your business, and are provided in both printed format and through our secure website login zone. Employee health and safety handbooks can also be prepared in various printed and digital formats.

Ongoing health and safety support

We can offer anything from annual audits and policy updates to two or three days' consultancy support per month. We will agree how many days or visits you need and work together to ensure you get the most from our time with you.

Our experts work with you, shoulder to shoulder, with the aim of becoming part of your team and a trusted partner to you and your people.

With all support packages you will have the reassurance and support of a dedicated consultant, and access to both our health and safety advice line and our monthly newsletters.

Risk assessment and method statement support

We approach the development of your risk assessments, safe systems of work and method statements as a team approach between you, us, and your people.

Our risk assessment services help establish your current programme and prepare your risk assessments, working in conjunction with your management team and employees. We're able to work with businesses in many different industries from large manufacturers and schools, to companies working in construction and refurbishment.

In addition, we run bespoke training courses at your premises, enabling you and your people to understand the processes and requirements of sensible risk assessments and safe systems of work. Our training is focused around practical experiences, and all courses take place in your workplace and involve risk assessing in groups.

We can help your business with:

- ✓ Formulating risk assessments
- ✓ Formulating method statements and safe systems of work
- ✓ Coaching and training your staff in risk assessment principles, both on-site and via e-learning

ISO 45001 accreditation

With more and more large companies requesting formal evidence of your commitment to health and safety, what better way than achieving the internationally recognised ISO 45001 accreditation?

We guide you through the accreditation process, through comprehensive ISO 45001 support, and preparing your business for the final accreditation from registered external verifiers.

Our strength lies in developing your management systems to meet the required clauses of the standard, which we then compliance audit with your management system to demonstrate the system is effectively embedded.

We can help your business with:

- ✓ Preparing for external verification
- ✓ Producing management systems
- ✓ Carrying out compliance audits

SSIP accreditation

Increasingly, major clients are requiring formal evidence of contractors' commitment to health and safety.

We can help you achieve a nationally recognised contractor standard to show your commitment and credentials, such as CHAS or Safecontractor.

In addition to the services listed, we're able to work with you on several other nationally recognised contractor standards.

We can help your business with:

- ✓ CHAS
- ✓ SMAS
- ✓ Constructionline
- ✓ Safecontractor
- ✓ Acclaim
- ✓ Achilles
